

Family Matters Conference

Slough 13.11.07

Impromptu Introduction by Fiona Mactaggart MP

Public policy often detached from reality

Importance of maximising the parent/child connection

Existing inadequate response from statutory services

Individuals change systems and processes

Need to find a mechanism to join up public policies

Greater effectiveness in working together results in crime reduction